

1. We recognize the equality of all men before the law, and hold that it is the duty of the government in its dealings with the people to mete out equal and exact justice to all, of whatever nationality, race, color or persuasion, religious or political.

2. We pledge ourselves to maintain the union of the States, emancipation and enfranchisement, and to oppose any reopening of the questions settled by the 13th, 14th and 15th amendments.

3. We demand the immediate and absolute removal of all disabilities imposed on account of the rebellion which was fully subdued seven years ago, believing that universal amnesty will result in a complete pacification of all sections of the country.

4. Local self-government with impartial suffrage will guard the rights of all citizens more securely than any centralized power. The public welfare requires this supremacy of the civil over the military power, and freedom of person under the protection of the habeas corpus. We demand for individuals the largest liberties consistent with public order; for States, self government, and for the nation, a return to the methods of peace and the constitutional limitation of power.

5. The civil service of the Government has become a mere instrument of partisan tyranny, and personal ambition, and an object of selfishness. It is a scandal and a reproach upon free institutions, and breathes a demoralization dangerous to the perpetuity of a Republican Government. We therefore regard a thorough reform of the civil service as one of the most pressing necessities of the hour; that honesty capacity and fidelity constitute the only valid claims to public employment; that the offices of the government cease to be a matter of arbitrary favoritism, and patronage and that a public station may again become a post of honor, and it is imperatively required that no President shall be a candidate for reelection.

6. We demand a system of federal taxation which shall not unnecessarily interfere with the industries of the people, and which shall provide the means necessary to pay the expenses of the government economically administered, pensions, the interest on the public debt and a moderate reduction of the principle thereof. And recognizing that there are in our midst honest but irreconcilable difference of opinion with regard to the respective systems of protection and free trade, we remit the discussion of the subject to the people in their Congressional Districts and to the decision of Congress thereon, wholly free from Executive control or dictation.

7. The public credit must be sacredly maintained, and we denounce repudiation in every form.

8. A speedy return to specie payments is demanded alike by the highest consideration of commercial morality and honest government.

9. We remember with gratitude the heroism and sacrifices of the soldiers and sailors of the Republic, and no act of ours shall ever detract from their justly-earned fame, or the full records of their patriotism.

10. We are opposed to further grants of lands to railroad or corporations. The public domain shall be held sacred to actual settlers.

11. We hold that it is the duty of the Government in its intercourse with foreign nations to cultivate their friendship by treating them on fair and equal terms, regarding it alike dishonorable to demand what is not right or to submit to what is wrong.

The Uses of Old Rags.

Woolen rags, as they come in from the peddlers, comprise every variety of fabric that is possible to produce from wool, from a coarse and harsh carpet to the finest and softest product of the loom. These are piled up in huge heaps upon the warehouse floor, and women and girls, whose wages average from four to five dollars a week, attack them on all sides and "sort" them into no less than ten grades, each of which have an special use and established value. The greater portion of these are manufactured into "shoddy," and as this is a word concerning which a general misapprehension exists, it may be well to devote a paragraph to its consideration.

Shoddy perhaps the best abused material in use. So far from being a mere sham and a poor substitute for wool, it is, in reality, a valuable material, and enters, in certain proportions, into the composition of nearly all cloth. It is not, as is generally supposed, woolen rags ground to a powder and worked into the cloth to give it weight, but wool fiber, combed out of wool fabrics by a peculiar process, and mixed with new wool when the latter is carded, is spun with it, and finally becomes a component part of the cloth.

Thus, by mixing a due proportion of fine grade of shoddy or wool fiber with new wool of a coarse grade, a substantial yet soft and handsome fabric can be produced and sold at a moderate price; while the same thing, with fine high cost wool in the place of the much-reviled shoddy, would cost far more and possess but little more value so far as wear and appearance are concerned.

Prince Henry, son of the Crown Prince of the German Empire, has just been apprenticed to a bookbinder in Berlin. "Leipziger Tageblatt" of the 2d instant states that the Crown Prince is a compositor, and gives a song composed by Max Moske which was sung by the men of the office to which he belonged on the occasion of his marriage to the Princess Victoria of England.

A prominent citizen of Norristown, approaching his sleeping apartment a few nights since, at a late hour, gently tapped at the door. "Who is it?" inquired the better half, to which very proper interrogatory the heartless man replied by asking: "Whom do you expect at this hour?"

A Perilous Season.

Glorious and delightful as the Summer weather is, its tropical heat is a severe trial to the vital powers. Even the strongest are sometimes prostrated by its effects. The common phrase applied to this condition of the body is "general debility." Now, general debility arises from, and includes a variety of ailments. The liver is more or less affected, the bowels are either constipated or too much relaxed, the stomach but half performs the work of digestion the appetite is poor, and the spirits depressed. This is what is called general debility. It is a general derangement of the physical functions, and requires as a remedy a medicine that will regulate them all. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is specially adapted to this purpose. Its general operation is not confined to a single organ. If the liver is affected, it restores its tone. If the stomach is torpid, it regenerates it. If the bowels are irritable and weak, it restores them. If the mind, which ever sympathizes with the body, is gloomy and despondent, it relieves the difficulty and soon brings the whole mechanism of the body into harmony with the laws of life and health.

There is no civilized nation in the Western Hemisphere in which the utility of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a tonic, or active, and antacid medicine, is not known and appreciated. Throughout the Tropics it is considered useful by the people and by the profession, the standard specific. While it is a medicine for all seasons and all climates, it is especially suited to the complaints generated by the weather, being the purest and best vegetable stimulant in the world.

Beware of the Bitters made of acrid and dangerous materials, which unscrupulous persons are endeavoring to foist upon the people. Their name is legion, and the public has no guarantee that they are not poisonous. Adhere to the tried remedy, Hostetter's Bitters, sold only in glass, and never in kegs or barrels.

THE EDUCATION FOR THE TIMES.

The Importance of a Practical Education Was never more Apparent than Now!

IT IS UNIVERSALLY ACKNOWLEDGED that as we grow in prosperity we grow more practical, and that it is required of men that they educate themselves practically—educate themselves in the best manner possible—to meet the demands of the times.

When Agassius, King of Sparta, was asked what things he thought most proper for boys to learn, he replied: "Those things which they should practice when they become men."

"Deliver all things in number and weight, and put all in writing that thou givest out or receivest in," is a precept of universal application; and there is a special necessity for its strict observance in all business transactions. Young men the future welfare of this Coast look to YOU! Are YOU prepared to meet its demands?
